Black History Month Events

2/5 Film Screening: Democrats
Winner of the 2015 Tribeca Film Festival’s Best Documentary Feature award, Democrats (dir. Camilla Nielson) is a non-fiction thriller about the African nation of Zimbabwe’s tensely peaceful struggle to emerge from authoritarian rule. Described by Alan Scherstuhl of the Village Voice as “astimulate and suspenseful... an excellent documentary about politics as you will ever see,” the film will be followed by a discussion led by Zimbabwean historian Francis Musemari of University of Kentucky.
7:00 PM in Waters Auditorium; popcorn & other refreshments served

2/25 Racism, Reparation, and Reconciliation: The United Nations International Decade for People of African Descent
Verene A. Shepherd, Professor of Social History at the University of the West Indies and member of the United Nations Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination, will give a public talk on the origins and objectives of this major United Nations initiative. Presented in partnership with the Black History Month Committee, the MU Department of Black Studies, and the Chancellor’s Diversity Initiative.
6:00 PM in Neff Hall 204

Lecture Series

2/25 Did the American Founders Intend to Separate Church and State?
Vincent Phillip Muñoz, Tocqueville Associate Professor of Religion and Public Life at the University of Notre Dame, will give a talk on the original meaning of the Establishment Clause in the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.
5:00 PM in 7 Halston Hall

3/16 Debate on Presidential War Power
Legal scholars Alberto Coll (DePaul University College of Law) and John Yoo (University of California-Berkeley Law) will debate whether the U.S. President needs congressional authorization to involve the United States in foreign wars. Professor Carli Conklin of the MU Law School will moderate.
6:00 PM in Leadership Auditorium

3/20 American Injustice: Mercy, Humanity, and Making a Difference
Bryan Stevenson, author of the widely acclaimed Just Mercy and Executive Director of the Equal Justice Initiative, will give a public lecture about mass incarceration and criminal justice in the United States. The talk will be followed by a reception and book signing.
4:00 PM in Jesse Auditorium

4/4 Town and Gown Dinner
Annette Gordon-Reed and Peter Onuf, “Most Blessed of the Patriarchs”: Thomas Jefferson and the Empire of the Imagination
Opening their national book tour in Columbia, two renowned Jefferson experts, Harvard Law School Professor Annette Gordon-Reed, who won the Pulitzer Prize and National Humanities Medal for her work on the Hemings family, and Peter S. Onuf, retired University of Virginia Professor and co-host of NPR’s “BackStory with the History Guys,” will give a dinner lecture sharing their insights on one of America’s most complex and debated figures.
6:30 PM in Columns D&E, Reynolds Alumni Center
Seating is limited. Contact KaneTC@missouri.edu for reservations

Friday History Colloquium Series

1/29 Imperial Claims, Local Justice: The Spanish Ship Affair in a Colonial Connecticut Court
Missouri Western Assistant Professor Dominic DeBrincat will examine a revealing but little-known incident from the troubled history of colonial America on the eve of the American Revolution: the 1752 looting of the Spanish cargo ship St. Joseph and St. Helena in the harbor of New London, Connecticut, and its long legal aftermath.
3:30 PM in Read Hall 304

2/12 University of Oxford’s Jay Sexton: “The Politics of the U.S. Steam Empire”
University of Oxford Professor of History and Rothermere American Institute Director Jay Sexton will give a talk on how innovations in steam technology transformed the political landscape in nineteenth-century America and beyond.
3:30 PM in Read Hall 304

Missouri Regional Seminar on Early American History

Open to all area faculty & graduate students - email Pasley@missouri.edu for details about attending.

2/19 The Constitution of American Environmental Governance
Participants will gather in St. Louis to discuss University of Missouri-St. Louis Caratzas Teaching Professor and Political Science Department Chair David Robertson’s forthcoming work on the evolution of land governance in America from the founding of the colonies through the adoption of the U.S. Constitution. MU Professor of History Jerry Frank will serve as interlocutor.
4/8 Interdisciplinary Double-Feature: Religion and Knowledge in Early American History
Convening in Columbia, MRSEAH participants will discuss “An apt emblem: Natural Sciences and Devotion among the Lassy in the Early Republic,” a book chapter by History Prof. Lily Santoro (Southeast Missouri State), and hear a talk by Prof. Abram Van Engen (English Dept., Washington University in St. Louis), entitled “Missionary Impulses and Historical Societies: The Political Theology of American History in the Early Republic.”

Academic Conference

5/21-22 Shawnee Trail Regional Seminar on American Politics and Constitutionalism
The Kinder Institute will host the second annual Shawnee Trail Seminar, bringing scholars together to discuss new research on American political development and constitutional theory.
All day at the Broadway Hotel

Community Seminars

Mormonism and the American Political Tradition
Kinder Postdoctoral Fellow in History Benjamin Park will lead a seminar that examines the Mormon Church’s impact on American political discourse, from the 1830s through the present day. The seminar will meet on the second Thursday of every month, from January through April.
Please contact parkben@missouri.edu for more details.

Crisis and Constitutionalism
Kinder Institute Director Justin Dyer will lead a seminar that uses readings from the history of political thought and historical case studies to examine constitutional governments’ ability to survive times of crisis and to consider arguments for and against the existence of emergency executive powers. The seminar will meet on January 21 and February 18, 2016.
Please contact dyerj@missouri.edu for more details.